I. Introduction

This research guide is intended to help would-be researchers find literature on international investment law. The following annotated bibliography covers the major sets of international investment law collections and the secondary sources owned or subscribed to by the Washington University School of Law Library. Some international investment resources on the Internet are also listed. You also may use Guide to international legal research (3rd ed.1998 K85 .G85 1998 on Reserve) as your research guide.

II. Primary Materials

The primary materials of international investment law include multinational, bilateral investment/trade agreements, and domestic laws and regulations towards foreign investments and investments to be made in other countries. It is therefore important to know foreign investment legislation, as well as national tax laws, antitrust laws, securities, corporate, environmental, and labor laws.

1. International Agreements
International agreements regarding investments can be found in the Convention of the Settlement of Investment Disputes between States and Nationals of Other States and in the following international trade agreements:

- The Agreement Establishing the World Trade Organization and its Annexes, which include the GATT 1994, a series of Multilateral Trade Agreements, and a series of Plurilateral Trade Agreement,
- North American Trade Agreement,
- other regional trade and investment agreements.

To find the full text of international trade agreements, you may use:

International Legal Materials

This periodical is also available on WESTLAW and LEXIS.

Basic Documents of International Economic Law
on LEXIS (ITRADE/BDIEL)

2. Bilateral Treaties

The United States has entered bilateral investment and tax treaties with many foreign nations. You may use the following publications to find bilateral treaties:

Treaties and international agreements online: Over 10,000 U.S. Treaties indexed, with full text searching. The text of treaties is available for viewing, printing and copying in accordance with the license agreement. To access this online database, point your web browser to the Law Library Homepage, click on Research Databases, choose TIARA U.S. Treaties Researcher in the pull down menu. After you log into the Oceana Online, choose Treaties and international agreements online. The library only has one simultaneous user so please log off after you finish searching.

III. Secondary Materials

Washington University School of Law Library has a strong collection in international investment law. To find what the library has, please search the library's online catalog via the Internet at http://catalog.wustl.edu/search~b1o1c1i1 a1/ or via the online cataloging terminals throughout the library. If you are looking for law review articles, please try the following indexes first.

1. Periodical Indexes

(1) Current Law Index, Foster City, Calif. : Information Access Company, Jan. 1980-, monthly updating. (The printed version is located in the Reading Room, K33 .C87.)

Current Law Index is an extensive index to legal articles. All the legal articles about international investment are indexed under the subjects of foreign investments, international trade, and dispute resolution of international law. The electronic version of Current Law Index (the coverage is from 1980 on) is available on WESTLAW (LRI) and LEXIS (LAWREV/LGLIND), and is called "Legal Resource Index". The library also subscribes to the web version of this index on the Internet. To access this database, go to a computer connected to the law school's LAN and point your browser to the Library's Homepage, click on the "Research Database" at http://ls.wustl.edu/Infores/Library/EResources/ and then on "LegalTrac SearchBank."

H.W. Wilson's Index to Legal Periodicals provides an index to articles from more than 500 legal journals, yearbooks, institutes, bar association organizations, university publications, law reviews, and government publications. The electronic version of Index to Legal Periodicals (the coverage is from 1981 on) is available on WESTLAW (ILP) and LEXIS (LAWREV/ILP). The library also subscribes to the web version of this index on the Internet. To access this database, go to a computer connected to the law school's LAN and point your browser to the Library's Homepage, click on the "Research Database" at http://ls.wustl.edu/Inforises/Library/EResources/ and then on "Index to Legal Periodicals."

(3) Index to Foreign Legal Periodicals, Berkeley, CA : University of California Press for the American Association of Law Libraries, 1960-, quarterly updating. (The printed version is located in Reading Room, K33.I38)

The library also subscribes to the web version of this index on the Internet. To access this database, go to a computer connected to the law school's LAN and point your browser to the Library's Homepage, click on the "Research Database" at http://ls.wustl.edu/Inforises/Library/EResources/ and then on "Index to Foreign Legal Periodicals."
